Callum Fox and the Mousehole Ghost is a time-slip adventure for 8 – 12 year olds set in Mousehole, Cornwall. Callum's summer holiday isn't working out quite as he'd expected.

His Grandad's turned out to be a miserable old git and Sophie, the girl he met on the train to Penzance, views him as more of a liability than anything else. However, his summer starts to get a whole lot more interesting when he meets Jim, the ghost of a World War II evacuee. Seventy years separate Callum and Jim, but as their stories unfold and intertwine Callum realises they have more in common than anyone could have imagined, and that some secrets last a lifetime...
