Might the mysterious Todd Langdon be the partner Elena has waited for? Twenty-one-year-old Elena Richards, disappointed in her shallow dating life, longs for the deep, secure relationship she sees in her parents. While on her family's annual vacation at their cabin on an island in Maine's beautiful Penobscot Bay, she meets handsome Todd Langdon. Intrigued by the sadness in his eyes to know more about him, she finds herself irresistibly drawn closer. Twenty-six-year-old Todd Langdon has always lived in an unraveling family that stumbles from crisis to crisis. Faced with a turning point, he takes his bitter grandmother, Amanda Faraway, to Deer Isle to relive her childhood memories...and to hopefully find answers for himself. Instead, he meets the energetic, beautiful Elena, and begins to fall in love. But doubts assail him. When she finds out about my family, will she walk away? Then tumult strikes the Richards. A secret is revealed, and Todd's past comes to light. Will the couple survive and go on to form a lasting relationship? Or are they rushing headlong toward heartbreak? A poignant tale of romance, family values, and the determination to fight a dark evil. "A breath of fresh air, grace, and redemption. Compelling and winsome. I recommend it highly!"-TED BAEHR, Publisher, Movieguide, Chairman, Christian Film and Television Commission. "Heartwarming, unforgettable.

Smart fiction that packs a powerful punch. A stellar must-read."-RAMONA TUCKER, Former Editor, Today's Christian Woman, Christianity Today, International.

"A long-time warrior, Barbara Hattemer is well qualified to tell of the hidden world of pornography and call for its evil to end."-ALAN SEARS, Executive Director of the Attorney General's Commission on Pornography, President, CEO, and General Council, Alliance Defending Freedom.
